Bye Bye!

Prince Magnus Mousecastle

Welcome!

My name is Prince Magnus

Mousecastle, the Governer of The Royal Palace.

Today you can explore some of the secrets of my palace if you find the 7 game boxes upstairs.

If you solve the riddle and discover the password, you can collect your prize in the museum souvenir shop!

I can help you with a clue to the password:

It's my friend, Count Chester Gorgonzola's favorite dessert!

Good luck and have fun!

1. Baron Alexander Castlehouse has found some lovely wall paintings in the entrance hall. He's wondering how many of the angels' feet you will find. What is the part of the angel's foot that is closest to you?

2. When I was little, Minka grandma told me a story about how the Count built this big beautiful palace. At first, he built just a little bit. As time went on and the Count had more money he added on and on to the Palace. Now we can all fit really well! What is the Count's family name?

3. Here in the Palace, we have had many guests. King I. Franz Joseph spent lots of time here but he usually always worked. I found that very boring! Here on the picture what I am doing?

4. If you would have looked out of this window 150 years ago then you would have seen a gorgeous lake. They named the lake after the animals that swam on it. What is the name of this animal?

5. Queen Elizabeth had beautiful long hair. It took hours to brush everyday. While her maids brushed her hair she would study languages, Greek and Ancient Greek. Here, in Gödöllő Queen Elisabeth spoke this language with her youngest daughter, Marie Valerie:

6. Queen Elizabeth was very fit because she loved sports. Her favorite was....

7. The royal couple's youngest daughter, Marie Valerie, lived in this beautiful powder blue suite. Princess Marie Valerie had a very strict schedule, she had a lot to study. My friend Count Chester Gorgonzola was often inspired by the Princess. What will the Count do when he goes home?
